David Schutz and his brother-in-law, Joseph Velka, traveled to San Francisco Sunday to watch a football match between the San Francisco Forty-Niners and the Brooklyn Dodgers, who journeyed all the way from New York for the contest. Mr. Schutz pronounced the game a very interesting one.

Up from Mexico, Calif., is Rosemary Rose, who is visiting her cousins, the Talisman Roses. "Tal" says that Rosemary, after a week in Redwood City, has finally agreed that our slogan, "Climate Best by Government Test," is no idle boast. She has said that if the climate here were suitable for her date palms she'd move here right now. "You can't do much with dates in Redwood City," Miss Rose said.

That's not the way we heard it, Rosemary.

Mrs. Franklin O'Gorman believes in doing her Christmas shopping early. We saw her yesterday walking down Broadway with a load of brightly wrapped bundles, scheduled to bring joy to the hearts of her host of friends. "There are only 90 shopping days left until Christmas," Mrs. O'Gorman says. We expect that it's not too early to wish this foresighted lady a very merry holiday season.

Mrs. George Allen spent a very pleasant day Sunday surrounded by relatives who journeyed here to celebrate her 90th birthday. Out-of-town guests included her sister-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Beeson of San Francisco, a granddaughter, Mrs. Alice Myers of Los Angeles, and a nephew, Willie Beeson of Sacramento. A good time was had by all.

Members of the Times-Gazette staff, and friends of both Times-Gazette Editor Ray Spangler and Reporter Nita Reifschneider experienced a pleasant surprise Monday when it was announced that the pair were married in Reno, Nev., last Sunday. Reno is the home of the new bride, and the marriage took place in the presence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Reifschneider. The newlyweds did not disclose their honeymoon destination. Redwood City hopes they will come home soon so that they can receive congratulations.

Friends of Grunjon J. Schmuckenkamp at a ceremony Tuesday presented him with a marble headstone for the grave of his recently deceased pet marmoset, Wagstaff. Wagstaff was a familiar sight for many years on Main St. as he waddled in and out of the grocery stores begging tidbits of zucchini, his favorite food. He has gone to a better world, where the zucchini is always green.

Support Drive

Officials of the San Mateo Central Labor Council and four of the leading union organizations of this locality have announced the 1946 drive of the San Mateo County Community Chest and have pledged volunteer workers to participate in the fund raising campaign. Other unions have signified taking like action this week.

Signing a joint proclamation in which all union members are asked to contribute this year to the chest fund, the union leaders also urged that members volunteer as solicitors.

Representing the unions at a recent meeting with Ira H. Potter, president, and Luther M. Carr, campaign chairman of the chest, were Carl Cohenour, secretary of the labor council, U. S. Simons Jr., secretary of Carpenters Union No. 162, A. Randall, secretary of the Plumbers Union, James Joy, secretary of the Painters Union, and Charles Benton, business agent of the Construction and General Laborers Union.

These leaders likewise signed as volunteer solicitors for the two weeks' fund raising campaign opening on Oct. 1, and through which the Community Chest has set a goal of $187,300.

Students Enroll

An all-time record that made spring quarter's record a puny figure was chalked up Tuesday by Stanford as 7051 students were registered for fall quarter, up to 5 p. m. More students are expected to register late.

The new figure battered the spring total of 4975 by more than 2000, and more than doubled last fall's enrollment of 3438.

So far, 5111 men and 1908 women are registered, giving a ratio of 2.5 men to 1 woman. The men's figure includes about 4000 veterans and 32 officers in the school of naval administration. New men students number 1558, while 532 new women entered Stanford this fall.

Former students who were enrolled sometime before spring quarter of 1946 totaled 910, 851 of them men and 67, women. Most of the students enrolled spring quarter or summer quarter or both are back, with 4011 registered, including 2702 men and 1309 women.

A year ago, the women slightly outnumbered the men. Of the total of 3438 students, 1825 were women and 1613, men.

Respected Mr. White

Stewart Edward White of Hillsborough, who died last Wednesday in San Francisco, left $64,000 of his estate, which is expected to be at least three-quarters of a million dollars, in specific bequests.

The writer and explorer left two-thirds of the residue of his estate to his brother Harwood White of Santa Barbara, and one-third of the residue to his sister-in-law, Milliecent F. Belknap of Flushing, N. Y.

In his will dated July 23, 1946, Mr. White specified that an amount not exceeding $50,000 go to the Save-the-Redwoods League, San Francisco, provided the residue of his estate is in excess of $400,000. Mr. White requested that the league purchase a group of redwoods to be known as the White Memorial Grove.

He left his collection of African game heads and curios to the California Academy of Science, Golden Gate Park, together with $500 to pay for the cost of removal and installation.

Eight godchildren were bequeathed $500 each and two employees were remembered with $2000 going to Mrs. Willis Maguire, 355 Hillside Blvd., San Mateo, and $1000 to M. Ann Payne of Sausalito. Other bequests included all stock in White & Lumber Co. to his brother, Harwood, and part of his personal property and $1000 to his brother for distributing the property, $500 to Mrs. Jean McCallum, 1533 Howard Ave., Burlingame, and $225 to Mrs. Leslie Kimmel of Laguna Beach, to be handled in accordance with his instructions; $500 to Minna Hagenbeck of San Francisco and $5000 to Reider Hoem of Oakland.

Serviceman Victorious

A waiver granting exemption from taxes to land which a veteran is purchasing was voted under protest Monday night by city councilmen.

The request for the exemption came from the California Dept. of Veterans Affairs, which is purchasing a lot in Redwood City, near the intersection of Main and Hillside streets, for a new veterans' center.

Children Send Gifts

It took almost a year, but the children at the Garfield School, who worked last year to send Christmas packages through the Junior Red Cross out to the Pacific area know now that their efforts were appreciated.

A battered gift box, which had found its way to a Chilean village, was refilled with the hand-made gifts of its little recipients in Chile, returned through National Headquarters of the Red Cross, through Pacific Area and finally finding its way back to the Junior Red Cross members in Redwood City, who launched it. Enclosed in the box was a letter in the original Spanish explaining that the gifts were made by the children of the Chilean school from vegetable scraps and horsehair and dyed various colors are now on display at the Garfield School.

Translated from Spanish, the letter reads: "The students of the first preparatory year, Junior Red Cross of Chile of School 37 in Linares, Rari, have the pleasure to send to their unknown friends of the Red Cross in the United States, these small presents made by us ourselves as a proof of gratitude."

"This village named Rari is very close to the hot springs of Panimavida, where many people come for the waters, which are very healthful, to cure rheumatism and stomach complaints."

Rari has 600 inhabitants. The climate is temperate. The people are engaged in agriculture. In Panimavida there is a factory where the mineral water is bottled and many people are employed in this work.

"We would appreciate your telling us something about the customs, climate, geographic position and industries of those places where the American students live. Very affectionately we request you to answer promptly."

With the box also came the following memorandum from Red Cross National Headquarters: "We judge that Escuela No. 37 received a gift box from the Garfield School and now wishes to enter into school correspondence with it. May we say we heartily endorse this suggestion. We hope that the Garfield School group receiving these gifts will answer the questions of the children of Chile."

City Atty. Paul McCarthy advised councilmen they had no alternative but to grant the waiver. Councilman Floyd C. Ganger, Redwood City county veterans officer, claimed such action was unfair to other veterans who are paying taxes but admitted that council had no choice but to grant the waiver.

McCarthy said in some cases veterans are paying taxes on the parts of the land they have already paid for—but no more. Often, he said, they can apply their $1000 tax exemption against even that part of the assessment and actually pay no taxes at all until they have paid out more than $1000 on their lots.

He said that the League of California Cities planned to protest such exemptions to the state government at the next session of the state legislature. The league feels, he said, that the state has not the right to grant tax exemptions to veterans which cost cities and not the state. Some arrangement will be advocated, he said, whereby the state will repay to cities what they lose in such exemptions.

30 Years Ago

San Francisco Supervisor Richard Welch urged construction of a Skyline Blvd. from San Francisco to Santa Cruz. "No grander scenery can be found in California, and that means in the world," Welch said, referring to the prospective road site.

At St. Paul's Episcopal Church in San Francisco Emma Goertzhain became the bride of Ernest Werder, greatly to the surprise of a large group of friends, who, while they have anticipated the marriage for some time, little expected that it would come so soon.

The grand jury met in conference with Dist. Atty. Franklin Swart and Sheriff Michael Sheehan, and it is understood that the two officials asked the members of the inquisitorial body to make an investigation of alleged gambling resorts in the north end of the county.

The district attorney prepared his case against two saloon keepers, one who sold liquor after 11 p. m., and another accused of selling liquor over the bar to women.

Judge George Buck, instructing the new grand jury, referred to county gambling by saying: "This county should not be made the dumping ground for questionable resorts from our neighboring county, nor the cesspool in which to run their filth. It is a simple matter to stamp out these resorts through the law, and the press and the activities of our good people."

Fred Drake was named to head a committee organized to fight for construction of a transbay bridge to be located near Dumbarton Pt.

Word has just been received that Company L of Palo Alto, of which Stanley Wood of Redwood City is sergeant, will return home soon from the Mexican border campaign.

All records for speeding on the highways of San Mateo County went by the boards when D. P. Pieri was arrested after a wild chase on the Woodside Rd. Police officers said Pieri was traveling at a 60 m.p.h. clip, and that they were unable to overtake him at their top speed of 50 m.p.h.

The young couple was married recently in Reno and plan to make their home in Tennessee.

Accusation

City Atty. Paul McCarthy was again criticized Monday night by Councilman W. M. (Bill) Werder for not appearing on time for a city hall council session.

Previously Werder had complained when McCarthy had been absent from a special council meeting in order of the position of city attorney in Belmont.

Werder offered a motion which was passed, ordering that McCarthy be informed that the Redwood City City Council will not bow to the fire chief in his efforts to get McCarthy to fill the Redwood City job and that his presence was demanded at every meeting — on time.

McCarthy arrived from Belmont at the Redwood City session at 8:30 p. m. Monday night, half an hour late.

Won't March

Redwood City Post 105 of the American Legion has been forced to withdraw its entry in the legion parade in San Francisco next month, according to Legion Comdr. Jack Thomas.

The Redwood City entry, which was to have featured the McKinley School Band and a group of tumbling school children, was canceled when it was learned that the float was scheduled to march down Market St. at midnight, too late for the children to participate.

He told Walter Moore, chief deputy sheriff, that he was en route from Los Angeles to San Francisco and that he was stopped at the beach to look at the scenery. Someone pried open the window of his car, he said.

News of Commuters

BY LOCOMOTIVE BILL

Commutation fares: The expected happened and the Southern Pacific Co. was granted a 20 per cent increase in monthly and weekly commutation fares effective Oct. 1. The regular monthly commute excluding Saturdays and Sundays will cost Redwood City commuters $10.86 or $1.81 more than they are paying at present.

Since the announcement was made it has been interesting to note the comments and the reaction of the commuters. The typical answer to the question as to how they liked the increase was that they never believed that the railway commission would allow the full amount of the increase requested by the railway and they are not only disappointed in that but in the fact that they felt the commission would couple their announcement of the increase with a requirement that the railway company issue a special commute excluding Saturdays and Sundays at a reduction in price over the present commute such as apparently will be done when the Key System decision is handed down in the next few days.

As it is, many commuters who work only five days a week are paying for at least four round trips each month they never use.

The announcement that the Key System has promised to inaugurate a commute ticket plan for riders who cross the Bay only five days a week should they be granted the increase requested can in this writer's opinion be attributed to the pressure put on them by the railroad commission and the opposition of East Bay commuters who attended in large numbers at the hearing.

It again illustrates the proposition that if you want anything you have to fight for it.

Peninsula commuters who are gentle souls at heart and not given to battling for the almighty dollar as is the habit of East Bay commuters and who were willing to concede that the railway was entitled to some increase are now showing signs of fight and are demanding to know why commuting on the Peninsula is any different than traveling across the Bay. If the Key System can see the logic of offering a commute for passengers using it only five days weekly they say, so can the Southern Pacific Co.

It does appear to Loco, who came out in this column a number of weeks ago with the suggestion of a five day week commute, that the State Railroad Commission did the Peninsula commuters a disservice in failing to urge this proposition upon the Southern Pacific Co. while at the same time approving and promoting it for Key System commuters.

At the Key System hearing which this writer attended the commission research engineer testified that in his opinion the Key System could issue a five day week commute and mind you this was not even an issue in the rate increase application of the railway. His testimony on this issue unquestionably came about through his own research and without prompting on the part of anyone.

His statement from the stand that 67 per cent of the commuters would use the special commute if it was available based upon a check made by their office is an example of the interest and promotion of the idea by the commission in this case.

No such showing was made at the Southern Pacific Co. hearing and the only statement on the subject was Vice Pres. C. E. Peterson's testimony to the effect that the company had given consideration to the idea but felt that if adopted it would cut heavily into their revenue and was therefore unacceptable for that reason. That was approximately the testimony given by the Key System president at their hearing.

It would be a fine gesture of good will and good public relations if the Southern Pacific Co. could see their way clear to go before the commission and voluntarily ask permission to inaugurate a commute ticket plan for riders who only ride the trains five days a week.

How much better it would be to do this on a voluntary basis rather than to have their commuter friends resort to the same methods so successful in the Key System case. If new sources of revenue are to be developed as suggested by Peterson in a message to commuters and commuters are to help convince others to ride the trains then the railway should voluntarily eliminate a rating system which is indefensible and which works an injustice on a large number of their commuters.

S.C. Man Jailed On Liquor Charge

State Board of Equalization agents early Monday arrested Nat Ciampi, 42, of 21 Devonshire Blvd., San Carlos, on a charge of selling liquor after hours at the Hidden Valley Inn.

Ciampi was released on $50 cash bail Monday morning and ordered to appear in Judge Rupert Johnson's San Carlos City Court at 10 a.m. Oct. 2.

He was arrested at 1:15 a. m. by J. W. Gillen of the state board.

Guernseys Sentenced To Prison

Henry Guernsey, 23, of Atherton, and William Guernsey, 25, of Palo Alto, settled down in San Quentin cells Tuesday. They were delivered to the state prison yesterday by San Mateo County Sheriff's Depts. Paul Jensen and Everett Heagney Monday afternoon.

A few hours earlier Judge Edmund Scott denied motions for probation, and sentenced the two to indeterminate terms in San Quentin on both of two counts of rape, to run concurrently but not consecutively.

The brothers and members of their families heard the sentence with the same impassive calm they displayed throughout the trial, and the pair laughed between themselves as sheriff's officers returned them to the county jail for removal to San Quentin sometime this week.

Judge Scott's denial of probation followed a recommendation of Probation Officer John Cowgill. The judge sat unmoved during pleas by attorneys for the brothers that a county jail sentence, followed by probation be delivered by the court to permit rehabilitation of the pair, and to follow the wishes of the jury, which earlier asked for a lenient sentence.

Judge Scott said he wished the sentence to serve as a "warning" to others that San Mateo County is not "soft" on cases of attack.

A stay of execution of the sentence asked by the defense attorneys to prepare a further appeal was also denied.

After a year in San Quentin the case of the brothers will be eligible for review, and at that time the length of their sentence will be fixed by state authorities. The maximum sentence for rape is 50 years.

The Guernseys were convicted of raping WAC Cpl. Lucille Dewey, 21, last Apr. 12, after she and a friend, WAC Cpl. Agnes Lavorboro, 23, had accepted a ride with the two in the International Settlement night club strip in San Francisco.

Cpl. Lavorboro left the car in the evening, but Cpl. Dewey remained, and was driven down the Peninsula, where she was attacked six times and thrown from the automobile near Belmont.

Mrs. Newton Acts To Halt Questioning

A civil attorney for Mrs. Lorraine Newton Monday morning pulled a surprise move which prevents further questioning of her husband's deposition Monday afternoon.

Alvin E. Weinberger, San Francisco assistant district attorney employed by Mrs. Newton in a private capacity, Monday morning filed a demurrer in San Francisco in Judge Alfred J. Fritz court, charging that Friedman's request for the deposition was in bad faith.

Judge Fritz continued the taking of the testimony until arguments on the demurrer are heard next Monday at 11 a.m.

Friedman, on behalf of Newton, charged with murdering his two children and with attempting to murder his wife, last week filed a request for Mrs. Newton to give her deposition in a civil matter and Judge Fritz granted the request.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Fred M. Wyckoff, who was not officially notified of Friedman's request for the deposition, since it is a civil matter, declared Monday that "we consider it a fishing expedition, done in bad faith."

He said it was done for no other purpose than for taking a deposition in a criminal case by using the civil matter angle.

Tests given Newton at the University of California for traces of epilepsy proved negative. Newton is to go on trial here Oct. 8.

Mr. Sullivan Speaks

"A Half Hour With the Classics" as told by Daniel E. Sullivan, assistant district attorney for San Mateo County, to the Redwood City Woman's Club meeting last week, proved highly entertaining to the members who filled the club room.

Sullivan, who was introduced by Mrs. A. S. Ligouri, transported his audience to varied climes both ancient and modern, as he dramatized scenes from well known plays. He concluded his program with a portion of Tennyson's "Guinevere."

During the business session, Mrs. Paul Leigh, a colonel for the coming Community Chest drive in Redwood City, expressed a need for more workers, and Mrs. Henry Beeger, Mrs. J. A. Walden and Mrs. Evelyn Carlson volunteered.

The Merry League luncheon preceded the afternoon meeting with Mrs. Howard Panderson presiding. She presented Mrs. Miles McDonald as her co-chairman and introduced as guests the Mmes. Frederick Barth, William Mathews, Albert Oneta, N. S. Frayne and H. J. Mayer.

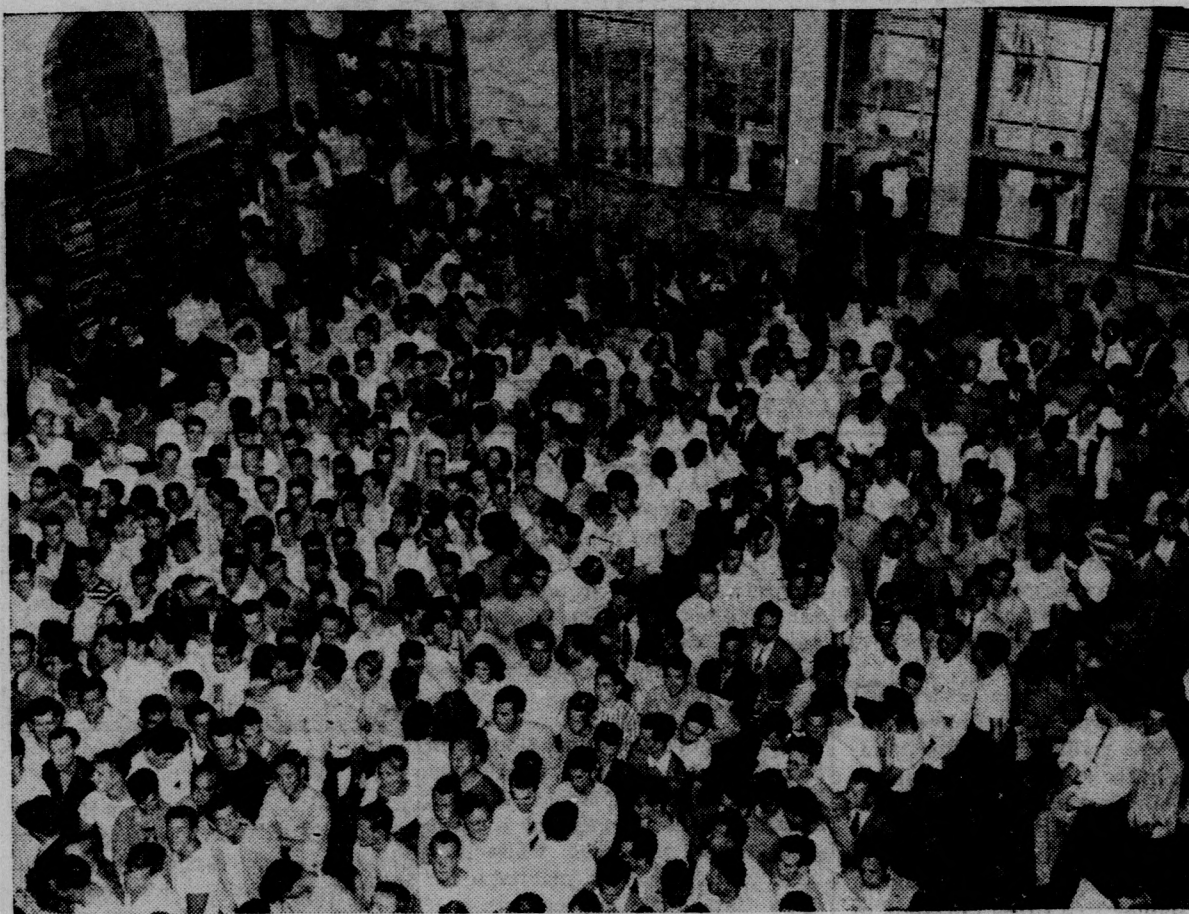

A Halloween party, "strictly an old fashioned informal," is scheduled for Oct. 26 at the club house. Marigolds in copper bowls decorated the long luncheon tables, which were served by Mmes. W. C. Railing, Waldo Stone, George Gunth, Graham Adams and Nelson Welbanks.

Redwood City firemen extinguished the blaze before the vehicle was further damaged. The fire happened at 7:36 p. m.

New Students Pour Into Stanford

Stanford Set for Record Enrollment

Stanford Monday opened its doors to more students than ever before in the school's history as registration began for the fall semester. A new sight on the university's campus was the inclusion of dormitories for married couples similar to that occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bennet (above) who moved into Stanford Village preparatory to beginning classes. Bennet, an ex-army sergeant, attended Stanford before the war.

Carroll Planning To Fight Military

Capt. Earl J. Carroll of San Bruno, is on his way out of the army this week but says he wants to go back to Germany to fight against the American Military Government's legal methods.

The outspoken critic of the army court-martial system arrived Sunday at Camp Beale for the process of becoming a civilian.

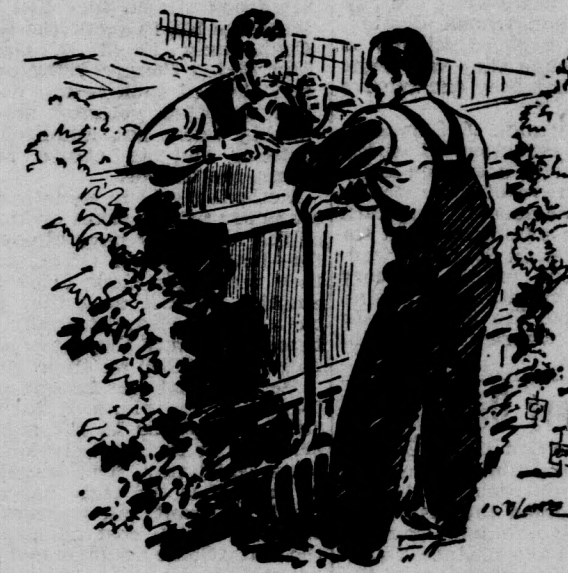

Carroll said that immediately after his discharge, expected Wednesday, he plans to ask the State Department for permission to return to Europe to defend three Americans in what he termed test cases of the military government's powers.

"During the year the AMG has been in operation there, thousands of Germans have been thrown in prison and held without charge," Carroll told an interviewer. "They had no opportunity to know the cause of their confinement or to prepare a defense in case they could guess the cause."

The same treatment has been accorded the three Americans.

"Public Library Week" is now being celebrated in Peninsula towns and county library branches. All cities of the Bay Area are participating in a plan to show the public the many library services now available to them, it was announced today by Miss Clara Dills, county librarian.

The statement further says: "The idea behind this plan is to acquaint men and women living in this area of the vast resources in libraries. Exhibits will be shown dealing with library resources and attention will be given San Mateo County authors."

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Member of San Mateo County Community Chest

Uniformed Boy Scouts will lead the Redwood City Community Chest parade on Saturday, beginning at 11 a.m. at Main and Heller Sts. The scout band, led by Dir. E. O. Brose, will also participate. All scouts marching in the parade will wear uniforms and bring their American flags and troop or pack flags.

As a result of the commissioners' staff meeting Thursday, the entire council forces have been mobilized for the purpose of putting the Community Chest drive on a county basis, over the top. As a result of the conference Scouters have been secured for key positions to handle public relations of the Community Chest through the Scouting family. Letters and other information have been distributed to the parents of Cubs, Scouts and Senior Scouts urging unlimited support of the Chest drive for funds.

Those attending the commissioners' meeting included: J. V. Christie, Stanley Marcus, L. C. Dillay, Ian Campbell, W. Stoen, Will Rogers, Bill Stevens, Charles Mosel, Bob Bean, Dr. Melvin Bradford, Pat Kelly, R. Nelson, Chuck Dyer, Chet Wilson, Comdr. W. W. Baumester, Ron L. Barkey and E. A. Barzer, scout executive.

The Executive Board of the San Mateo Area Council, Boy Scouts of America has arranged to make available the entire executive staff to devote their time to actual solicitation of funds and to cooperate, wherever possible, to strengthen the Chest organization.

Philip N. Lillenthal Jr., president of the San Mateo council, today made the following appeal to the friends of the Boy Scout movement to support the coming drive for funds of the San Mateo County Community Chest. Lillenthal said:

"This is the fifth anniversary of the San Mateo County Community Chest, and simultaneously therewith the annual campaign for funds to carry on scouting in San Mateo County."

"The careful training of our youth in preparation for better citizenship and for development of good character is a heritage and duty, which the citizens of today can neither shirk nor avoid. This task is becoming greater as our community and county grow. The facts testify that during the year 1945-46 we have increased in the number of Cubs, Scouts and Senior Scouts in this area 20 per cent, so that we are responsible for more than 6000 boys and leaders who are being serviced by the local Boy Scout Council."

"We cannot close the door to any boy over the age of 9 who applies for an opportunity to enlist as Cub Scout, Boy Scout or a Senior Scout which includes the Air Scouts, Sea Scouts and Explorer Scouts. We cannot say to any boy: 'Sorry, son, but we have no money to take care of you. Of course, he would not understand. It is not expected that he should. We fully understand that a monetary contribution made by every citizen in San Mateo County to the Community Chest will keep that door open for every boy."

In the recent check on all units it was revealed that 90 per cent of the units were meeting as of last week and that with the coming week all units would be meeting. Many of the Cub Packs met for the first time last Friday and the remainder will meet on Friday, Sept. 27. Any boy wishing to join the Scouting family is requested to contact the Scout headquarters in his community, or the pack, troop or senior unit and make out his application. All boys are invited.

Campbell was introduced to the commissioners who received him with great enthusiasm and showed him their appreciation for his unselfish work to making Cubbing what it is, Campbell has been serving as the central district's Cub commissioner for the past year and during his term has shown a great increase in membership in Cubbing in the central district, and has grown until there are at the present 19 Cub Packs serving San Mateo, Burlingame and Hillsborough.

Some young men know what they want and plan for it. Others are still looking for their niche. The new Regular Army can help both. Perhaps you want to go to college but can't afford it. If you enlist in the Army, you'll get your chance. Immediately discharged after a three-year enlistment, you are eligible for 48 months of education at any college, trade, or business school for which you can qualify. The Government will pay your tuition, laboratory fees, etc., up to $500 per ordinary school year, plus $65 a month living allowance—$990 a month if you have dependents.

If you haven't found your spot, an Army enlistment offers you training in any of 200 trades and skills. You leave the service eligible for further training at the best civilian schools.

You can assure yourself of the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights if you enter the Army on or before October 5, 1946. See your nearest Army Recruiting Station for details.

Menlo Elementary School Enrollment Climbs 20 Per Cent

Enrollment in the Menlo Park elementary schools has gone up 20 per cent this fall, according to O. H. Olsen, superintendent of schools.

The enrollment at the Central School for the autumn term is 386 as compared with 297 for last year, a percentage increase of 23.2 per cent. At the Fremont School the increase of this year's enrollment over the 1945-46 level is 18.6 per cent, rising from 204 students to 242.

The greatest increases in population are noticed in the kindergarten and first grades, the percentage increase becoming less as the grade level rises. The kindergarten has gone up from 61 5-year-olds last year to 90 this fall, an increase of 33 per cent. The first grade enrollment has also skyrocketed, going from 68 to 94, an increase of 27 per cent, Olsen explained.

Other percentage increases by grades are: Second, 10 per cent; third, 21 per cent; fourth, 12 per cent; fifth, 26 per cent; sixth, 13 per cent; seventh and eighth, 11 per cent.

To take care of the increase in the lower grades, Olsen announced, there are now four kindergarten

Hearing Set On Millbrae Incorporation

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors Tuesday afternoon set Oct. 22 as the date for a public hearing on a petition of Millbrae residents for the incorporation of that town.

County Clerk William H. Augustus told the board that the costs of the incorporation election have been reduced to a maximum of $100, since volunteer precinct officers and free polling places will be used. Peter Loftus of the Millbrae Sun has agreed to print the ballots and public notices free of charge, Augustus said.

18-Year-Olds Must Register, Paul Warns

George Paul, selective service board officer, Wednesday warned boys approaching the age of 18 that they may be penalized by law if they fail to register immediately after their 18th birthday.

"We can't have boys coming in five or six weeks after they turn 18," Paul said. "The selective service still stands, and it requires that a boy register on his 18th birthday or as soon as possible thereafter."

Measure Voted After City Master Planners Explain Parking Setup

Preliminary steps leading to the installation of parking meters on Redwood City streets were taken Monday night by city councilmen. After hearing a report by Hahn, Campbell and Associates, master planners, the council voted to have City Mgr. E. W. Blom draw plans and specifications for the projects.

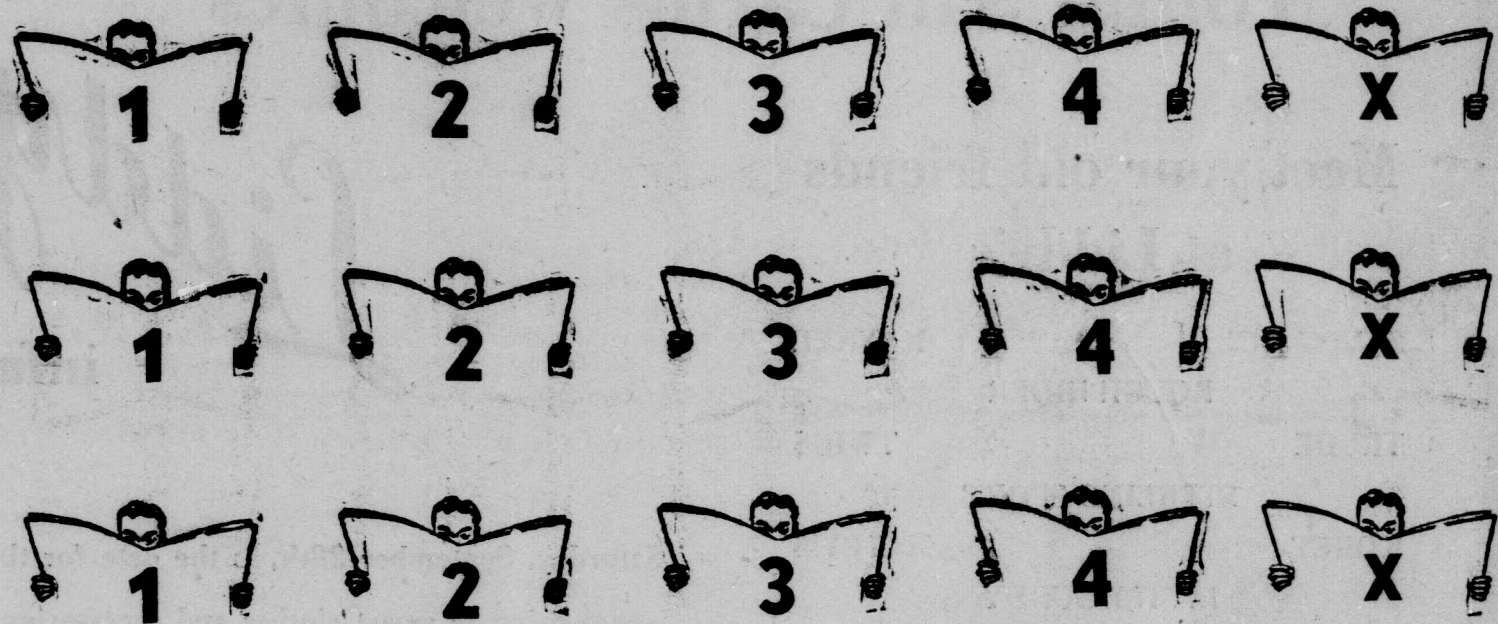

The motion was made by Councilman C. C. Armstrong, seconded by Floyd D. Granger. After the meeting Granger said that the meters would be installed only on a trial basis. He said this was the usual practice of the companies manufacturing the meters. Invariably, he claimed, cities approve of the meters after they are once installed.

Big Game Off If Raids Continue

Stanford students were warned Wednesday that if they make any raids on University of California campus this fall, the school administration might find it necessary to cancel the "Big Game."

The note of caution came from Martin Anderson, president of the Stanford Associated Students. Quoting from an agreement reached between the two rival schools in 1933 that the axe would be awarded to the winner of each year's "Big Game" and that the officers of each student body would be responsible for the conduct of its members in observing the agreement, President Anderson explained that "there is an understanding that each school will punish its own violators."

"Last fall when the axe was stolen, California inflicted a stiff penalty against those responsible. Now, expulsion faces those responsible for the second theft if they are U. C. students," Mr. Anderson added, expressing fear that either Pres. Donald Tresidder of Stanford or Pres. Robert Sproule of California might have the game canceled, if the raids continued.
